Even though technology has increased how organizations can be more productive, many companies still don't run as efficiently as possible. That's why most employers need staff members that understand the full potential of how information and communication technology (ITC) can enhance workplace success.

Information and communications technology (ICT) skills refer to one's ability to converse with people through various technologies. Similar to information technology (IT), ICT refers to technology use for regular, everyday tasks: sending an email, making a video call, searching the internet, using a tablet or mobile phone, and more.

The workshop was expected to provide to the students a platform for providing hands on training on various available latest ICT tools for innovative learning and support solutions. It was expected to empower the students to use these tools in their teaching and learning practices. The emphasis was to enable exploring the possible use of the available ICT tools innovatively, which will further facilitate their learning experience.
