Theme: Green Skills for Youth

Gian Jyoti Institute of Management and Technology, Punjab in collaboration with Punjab State Council for Science and Technology (PSCST), organized a workshop to celebrate World Environment Day on 11 August, 2023. The event saw a wide range of exciting activities, competitions and Research Based Contest that aimed to raise awareness about Conservation of Environment and promote sustainable practices among students with a broad theme of Green Skills for Youth towards a Sustainable World. More than 200 students participated in the event and exhibited a lot of enthusiasm in the event. The activities included:

1. Extempore (Speech Competition on 7 Themes of Mission Life).
2. Poster Presentation – Sustainable India.
3. Case Study Analysis
4. Best Utilization of Waste Wares.
5. Expert Talk for Motivating Youth.

The event was attended by esteemed guests from PSCST, namely, Dr. Ranjeet Kaur Program Officer, EIACP (Environmental Information Awareness Capacity Building and Livelihood Program) and Er. Dinesh Kumar IT Officer, PSCST. The event was graced by Dr. Aneet Bedi, Director GJIMT, Prof. Gurdeepak Singh, Director International Education and Placements, Dr. Neeraj Sharma, Dean Academics, Faculty and students of GJIMT.

Welcome Address: Honorable Director of GJIMT, Dr. Aneet addressed the students and welcomed the guests. She introduced the Guest Speaker of the Day and discussed the significance of Conservation of Environment and also the need of reducing the carbon Footprints to enable mankind to save the Mother earth from the scourge of Pollution.

About the Speaker: The Expert speaker for the Event was Dr. Pooja Chopra. She has completed Masters in Environment Management from Yale School of Forestry and Environmental Studies, Ph.D. in Management with focus on Development & Promotion of Ecotourism & protection of Environment. She is also an MBA in Marketing & International Business, having 20 + years of rich experience including 8 years in teaching and research.

Dr. Pooja is an Environment Conservation, Ecotourism & Social Development specialist taking Government projects. An expert in designing nature interpretation centres, she is also Climate Reality Leader, Climate Reality Project.

Her active contribution has been in community-based ecotourism, training on upcycling, climate action awareness, tree plantation drives, wildlife & biodiversity conservation communication across India.

Highlights: Dr. Pooja introduced the case study of The European Geosciences Union (April 2010) that examines the impact of a 1.5°C Vs. 2.0°C increase by end of century. She discussed at length the effects of Climate Change and its disastrous consequences. She also suggested changes that can be brought about in our day-to-day life that can mitigate the effects of these changes.

Student groups presented and deliberated on the effects and implications of Climate Change.

Vote of Thanks by Dean Academics: Dr. Neeraj Sharma delivered vote of thanks for the guests and reminded the students about the steps that can be taken in everyday chores that can go a long way in making Earth a better place to live.

The session concluded with prize distribution ceremony where the winners of the research-based project were presented with the prizes.
